

Belgian Plastic Distribution Box Manufacturer

Overview

Gamma-Wopla and Smart-Flow form a Belgian company specialised in the development and production of logistic solutions.

Key Takeaways

Gamma-Wopla & Smart-Flow and Neopack are leading Belgian manufacturers of plastic distribution boxes, offering both standard and customized solutions. Key Manufacturers

Gamma-Wopla & Smart-Flow Gamma-Wopla and Smart-Flow are prominent Belgian companies specializing in the design and production of plastic boxes, crates, and pallets. They offer over 200 product variants, including closed and open wall boxes with handgrips, suitable for logistics, distribution, pharmaceuticals, retail, food, automotive, agriculture, and industrial applications. Their products include multi-purpose Europallets, hygienic pallets for the food industry, and fully recyclable options. They also provide custom solutions through their in-house R&D department . Neopack Neopack is a Belgian manufacturer focused on thermoformed plastic packaging for both food and non-food industries. Established in 1970, the company produces standard and custom packaging solutions, including disposable and biodegradable options. Neopack emphasizes rapid delivery and competitive pricing, with a strong capability for tailor-made designs to meet specific product requirements . Other Notable Companies

- B4Plastics: Specializes in sustainable, innovative plastic packaging, including reusable crates, pallets, and bulk containers .
- Industrial Plastics Belgium (I.P.B. nv): Offers custom solutions for packaging projects using high-quality plastic sheets .
- Superplastic and PlastiService: Provide a range of plastic products and semi-finished materials for industrial and construction applications .
- deSter: Global manufacturer of food packaging and tableware with environmentally conscious designs .

Considerations for Sourcing

Belgium adheres to strict EU regulations on plastic use, recycling, and waste management. Companies in this sector often focus on sustainable materials, recyclability, and compliance with the European Plastics Strategy. Many manufacturers provide customization options to meet specific industrial or retail needs, and the country's strategic location facilitates distribution across Europe . These manufacturers collectively offer a wide range of plastic distribution boxes, crates, and pallets, catering to diverse industries while emphasizing sustainability, quality, and innovation.
