

Direct supply from French mesh cable tray manufacturer

Overview

Thanks to innovation and improved technology, we have evolved into a one-stop shop for Cable Tray manufacturers.

Key Takeaways

Several French manufacturers, including Valdinox, Cablofil, OB Profils, and Jeetmull Jaichandlall, offer direct supply of high-quality wire mesh cable trays with customization and international delivery options.

Key French Manufacturers

Valdinox specializes in easy-to-install wire mesh cable trays, supports, and accessories. Their EASYCONNECT® system integrates a self-coupling mechanism that enhances resistance, safety, and lifespan, while reducing installation costs. They provide technical advice throughout project phases, making them suitable for both standard and complex installations (Valdinox) . Cablofil is a well-known brand in Europe, offering wire mesh cable trays since 1972. They provide tools like CabloCAD for 3D modeling and a web configurator for project estimation, which helps in planning and ordering customized solutions efficiently (Cablofil) . OB Profils, located in Prunay-Le-Gillon, manufactures and markets a wide range of cable trays and supports. They offer over 2,500 references, including various finishes such as galvanized, stainless steel, aluminum, and PVC. OB Profils supports both domestic and international logistics, ensuring timely delivery and export readiness. They also provide tailored solutions for specific construction site configurations (OB Profils) . Jeetmull Jaichandlall (P) Ltd. operates in France as a trusted manufacturer and supplier of wire mesh cable trays. They emphasize high-quality finishing, adherence to industry standards, and the ability to customize trays in various sizes, shapes, and colors. Their modern manufacturing facility ensures consistent quality and global supply capabilities (Jeetmull Jaichandlall) .

Considerations for Direct Supply

- Customization: Most manufacturers offer tailored solutions to fit specific project requirements, including size, material, and finish.
- Technical Support: Manufacturers provide guidance on installation, load capacity, and project planning.
- Logistics: Companies like OB Profils and Cablofil manage both domestic and international deliveries, including container preparation and export documentation.
- Sustainability: Some manufacturers, such as OB Profils, integrate eco-friendly practices in logistics and packaging. For direct supply, it is recommended to contact the manufacturers directly through their websites or sales teams to discuss project specifications, pricing, and delivery schedules. This ensures access to the full range of products and technical support tailored to your needs.
