Key Takeaways

Key Lithuanian manufacturers for general-purpose optical cables include Lietkabelis and Skaidula, both offering direct sales and B2B solutions. Leading Manufacturers

1. Lietkabelis Lietkabelis is one of the most authoritative cable producers in Europe, specializing in high-quality optical cables for telecommunications and industrial applications. The company emphasizes customized solutions, technological innovation, and long-term client relationships, making it suitable for direct procurement of general-purpose optical cables. Their website provides contact options for direct sales inquiries and bulk orders. 2. Skaidula Skaidula has been active since 1989 and produces fiber optic cables, connectors, and network solutions. They are an authorized representative of major international brands like FUJIKURA and DIAMOND, and they manufacture high-quality fiber optic connectors and cables locally. Skaidula offers direct sales and comprehensive support for voice, video, and data network solutions, making them a reliable partner for bulk purchases. 3. Other Notable Companies

- Workshop of Photonics (WOP): Specializes in ultra-precision fiber processing and custom-shaped tip fibers, suitable for specialized optical applications.

- Altechna: Produces custom laser optics and fiber end caps, which may complement optical cable systems .
 - Mainsec: Distributor of fiber optic cables and telecommunications solutions, offering direct sales in the Baltic region .
 - Teltonika Networks: Manufactures professional connectivity equipment, including Ethernet and fiber solutions for IoT and networking applications .
- Direct Sales and Procurement

For direct sales, both Lietkabelis and Skaidula provide B2B contact channels through their websites, allowing companies to request quotes, discuss custom cable specifications, and arrange bulk orders. Additionally, platforms like go4WorldBusiness list verified Lithuanian optical fiber cable suppliers offering wholesale and direct purchase options .

Summary

For general-purpose optical cables in Lithuania, Lietkabelis and Skaidula are the primary manufacturers with established direct sales channels. Other specialized companies like WOP, Altechna, and Mainsec provide complementary optical components or distribution services. Businesses seeking direct procurement can contact these companies via their websites or B2B platforms to arrange bulk orders and customized solutions.
