Key Takeaways

Double-door outdoor distribution boxes typically range from $50 to $300 depending on size, material, and IP rating. Price Range and Factors

The cost of double-door outdoor distribution boxes varies based on size, material, and protection rating:

- Small to medium stainless steel boxes (e.g., 400x300x200mm to 500x400x250mm) generally cost $50–$150 and are suitable for residential or light commercial use .
 - Larger or heavy-duty boxes with IP66 or IP65 ratings for industrial applications can range from $150–$300 or more, especially when made from high-quality stainless steel and equipped with safety locks and removable mounting plates .
 - Material: Stainless steel offers corrosion resistance and durability, while galvanized steel or powder-coated metal may be slightly cheaper.
 - IP Rating: IP66 provides dust-tight and water-resistant protection, which is essential for outdoor installations, and can increase the price.
- Features Affecting Cost
- Double doors for easier access and maintenance

- Removable galvanized mounting plates for flexible component installation
- Safety locks to prevent unauthorized access
- Waterproof and dustproof design for outdoor durability
- Multiple sizes to accommodate different electrical setups

Where to Buy

- Amazon offers a variety of sizes and IP ratings, with prices starting around $50 for smaller boxes .
- Alibaba provides bulk purchasing options for industrial-grade boxes, often with customizable features .
- Home Depot carries outdoor breaker boxes suitable for residential use, with pricing depending on brand and specifications . When selecting a box, consider the environmental conditions, number of circuits, and future expansion needs, as these factors influence both the size and cost of the distribution box.
